Call for applications 2019

Anton & Petra Ehrmann-Stiftung Research Training Group

Hohenheim, 05.06.2019

„Water – People – Agriculture“

PhD Scholarship

The Anton & Petra Ehrmann-Stiftung Research Training Group „Water – People – Agriculture (WPA)“ is offering PhD scholarships for highly qualified and motivated national or international candidates holding a diploma or MSc certification and who want to start a scientific project on a topic related to “integrative solutions to water issues and conflicts”.

Scholarships, at a basic rate of 1350 Euro/month are available for a period of 36 months. WPA additionally offers the opportunity to support the successful research projects with additional research funds.

To apply for a scholarship, the applicant must relate the research proposal to one of the suggested topics published under the graduate school's homepage www.water4use.info.

The successful applicant will participate in the PhD program “water for life” of the agricultural faculty at Hohenheim University.

More information and detailed instructions how to apply for a WPA scholarship are provided at the graduate school's homepage www.water4use.info.

We are looking forward to receiving your proposal until 31 October 2019.
